

	The Elopement	The Minimalist Wedding	The Laid Back Wedding	The Cocktail Party	The Big Bash
Ceremony Venue	Barefoot on the Beach	Backyard in the Gardens	Maritime, History, or Art museum	Amongst the Grape Vines	Church or Temple
Reception Venue	No Reception - Dinner for two with a bottle of bubbly is more ourspeed	Backyard with picnic tables and coolers for beer	Same as Ceremony	A Vineyard	Waterfront Resort
Menu	Depends where we land for dinner. We're feeling lobster rolls!	Can you say, BBQ?	Italian? Taco Bar? Family style passed platters? So many options...	Passed hors d'oeuvres, raw bar, stationed dinner	Sit-down dinner with prime rib and lobstah
Guest List	Just Two!	Two to three dozen	No more than fifty of our closest friends and family	No more than 100	A couple hundred of our closest friends
Invitations	Not necessary	E-Vite!	Shutterfly, VistaPrint, Zazzle - whoever has the best deal!	Elegant, classy, lined envelopes with RSVP cards	Pretty sure these babies will require extra postage
Photography	Hello, selfie stick	Jill, can you take a few shots for us?	We'll hire a professional for a couple hours - to capture some highlights	We want tons of candid during the reception and a few formals post ceremony	The works - getting ready shots, bridal party shots, reception shots. And a videographer please.
Flowers	Not for us!	We're liking the look of that hydrangea bush. Fresh cut!	Wild flowers and smaller versions for wedding party. The venue décor eliminates need for much more	Something rustic and earthy to tie in with vineyard theme. Simple centerpieces for high top tables	The sky's the limit. Bridal bouquet, corsages, boutonnières, centerpieces, aisle arrangements. Oh, and something for the alter.
Cake	Ben and Jerry's, baby	Can we get an ice cream truck to set up shop in the back yard?	Cup cake tower!	Simple, with nature inspired décor; the main focus is a killer dessert bar	Five tiers. Fondant. Martha Stewart. Nuff said.
Music	We'll jam in the car after the ceremony	We'll Bluetooth a playlist from our phones	One man band singing some classics and playing ukulele	Jazz band	String quartet for the ceremony. Five piece band plus horn section for reception
Bride Attire	Long skirt tank top, and bare feet	Sundress and flip flops	Tea length number scored on the sale rack at Macy's	Vintage gown from a consignment shop	Ball gown with loooong train
Groom Attire	Jeans and a polo	Jeans and button down	Khakis and blazer	Classy suit	Tux of course
Wedding Party Attire	No wedding party for us	A wedding party is feeling a tad formal for us	Something they feel good in	Bride picks the color, bridesmaids pick the attire; suits for the guys	Matching. Black. Elegant. Tuxes for guys
Transportation	Um, our car?	N/A...the beauty of a home wedding!	Cabs or Uber if we've had too many	Trolley!	Limo for bridal party. Rolls for us!
Favors	No guests, no favors	Free beer!	Postcard of the museum indicating a donation has been made to a charity in lieu of favors	Personalized wine glasses - because, you know - winery...	Heart shaped salt and pepper shakers. Or something equally "cute"
Place Settings	What's a place setting?	Choose your own picnic table	Sit where you want when you want	Find your name on our chart and head to the corresponding table number.	They're called escort cards, actually.
Programs	Program: Wedding Ceremony, Chatham Light Beach 11 a.m. Done.	We think it's all pretty self explanatory	It's a simple ceremony. We'll save a few trees.	Recycled scrolls highlighting bridal party and special relatives/readers	Several pages. Calligraphy will be involved.
Rehearsal Dinner	Nothing to rehearse!	We prefer to fly by the seats of our pants, thanks.	Quick run through with wedding party over libations	Clam bake	That's like a mini wedding, right? We'll need place cards for that too.
